

SHEA NO LONGER IN CHARGE

Teamsters' Executive Board Takes Direction of Chicago Strike.

DISPUTE IN REGARD TO JURISDICTION

Builders Alleged that Teamsters Are Doing Constructive Work and Withdraw Moral and Financial Support.

CHICAGO, May 27.—The general executive board of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters has taken the management of the strike out of the hands of President Shea, and it will be managed hereafter by the members of the executive board and the local strike committee. After assuming control of the strike the executive board issued a statement which, with a few unimportant omissions, is as follows:

"At the meeting of the general executive board of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters a general discussion of the present strike was had, and it was decided unanimously to continue the struggle along the same lines, with frequent conferences between the general executive board and the local joint strike committee of the teamsters' council of Chicago.

"If at any time any change of policy is decided upon it will be at once announced. We believe the strike should be confined to Chicago and to as few men in Chicago as is possible.

"We are opposed to spreading the strike to any workmen except teamsters.

"The general executive board is hopeful that peace will soon be established, but any peace must be on terms honorable to the strikers. However, there is no intention on the part of the executive board or the joint strike committee to be arbitrary."

Dispute Among Labor Unions.

While numerous small riots were in progress today both in the downtown streets and in the lumber districts, the leaders of the teamsters' strike and the officials of the building trades were engaged in quarrels of their own.

The action of the building trades last night in withdrawing from the teamsters their financial and moral support angered the teamsters and they lost no time today in calling upon the representatives of the building trades and demanding to know what they mean by "going back" on the teamsters in the thick of the fight. It was made plain to the teamsters that in the opinion of the building trades they had overstepped their jurisdiction in causing members of their union to do constructive work. The particular cause of complaint was that teamsters employed in handling safes and vaults had placed them in buildings. This action, the building trades contend, belongs to them. President Shea of the Teamsters' union declared that he would order every safe and vault removed from the city by Monday morning and stop work on all buildings where the members of the building trades are employed. No attention was paid to this threat by the building trades' representatives, and finally a committee composed of Michael Casey of San Francisco, John Sheridan of Chicago and Edward Gould of New York, all members of the executive council of the teamsters, was appointed to confer with the building trades over the matter of jurisdiction. No time was specified for the meeting.

Attempts at Settlement.

Several new efforts were made during the day to settle the strike, but none of them amounted to anything. The Chicago Team Owners' association made another effort to induce the teamsters to arbitrate the question of delivering goods to boycotted houses. The Chicago Masons' and Builders' association offered its services to arbitrate all things connected with the strike. The offer was accepted by the teamsters and acknowledged by the employers, as all other similar propositions have been with the declaration that there was nothing in the strike that admitted of arbitration. The labor leaders made another effort to induce Vice President Fairbanks to use his good offices in settling the strike, and a number of the members of the Team Owners' association joined them in the move. They were informed by the secretary of the vice president, however, that he could not undertake to interfere in the strike.

Mayer and Barry Go East.

Levy Mayer, attorney for the Employers' association, and James B. Barry, business agent of the Express Drivers' union, left Chicago for the east today. Neither man would state the object of his journey. It was reported that Mr. Mayer was to confer with the officials of the express companies in an effort to induce them to modify their attitude against the employment of their striking drivers, but he denied this and declared that he knew that the companies would not recede from the position they had taken. It was said of Mr. Barry's object in going to New York was that he was planning to call out the drivers in other cities in a sympathetic strike unless the Chicago drivers are re-instated. President Mulligan of the express drivers said: "I would not care to talk about the report. I have heard of such a thing as an effort to call out the drivers in other cities in a sympathetic strike, as with the object of securing financial aid for men. It is admitted by the labor leaders that a critical stage in the strike is at hand. There were numerous fights between the police and strike sympathizers in all parts of the city today, the majority of the skirmishes being, however, in the lumber district.

In one of the riots in this section a large number of women and children made much trouble for the police by getting in front of them when they charged upon the men who had been hurling missiles. One woman, Mrs. Anna Corcoran, was arrested as she stood with an armful of bricks hurling them as fast as she could at the police. One of them struck Officer Christopher Driscoll on the head, knocking off his helmet. He made a rush for the woman and placed her in the patrol wagon.

Police Inspector Lavin today arrested Nicholas Reichart, James Collins, John H. Doherty and a man named Wahl who declined to give his first name, but is known as "Shelders," on the charge of conspiring to stir H. F. Jones, barn steward of the Wells-Fargo company, and W. E. Ellis, superintendent of the city delivery department of the same company. Reichart, after being taken into custody, confessed his share in the matter and his statement led to the arrest of the other three.

All denied that they had been paid to do the slugging.

Many Police on Duty.

An armed force of 7,500 men, police and deputy sheriffs, said to be all of the largest size, are on duty today. National Guard of Illinois was in command of the teamsters' strike situation today. A call for troops seemed to be increasingly distant. In the lumber district, according to Secretary Hooper of the Lumbermen's association, 150 national guardsmen were at work and 200 experienced lumber teamsters engaged in Duluth and Minneapolis will be added to the force by Monday. Chief of Police O'Neill stopped hiring extra policemen today and numbers of colored men who swarmed into his office to be sworn in were turned away. Formal complaint against the swearing in of colored men as police was made by Attorney Sincere of the Employers' Teaming company, the ground taken being that the use of negro policemen as guards for wagons would tend to incite violence. Refusal of the building trades to give moral and financial support to the teamsters until a puzzling question of a jurisdictional nature is settled is not accepted by President Shea of the teamsters as representing the sentiment of the rank and file of the thousands of workmen in the building trades and he will not sanction the abandonment of a custom of standing by without certain classes of teamsters do work at low rates against the wishes of other unions.

Affects Coal Dealers.

As a result of the teamsters' strike a new low record in the price of bituminous coal, as compared with previous depression during years, has been established. This applies to the coal situation generally in the western trade, according to the Black Diamond. The retail trade in anthracite in Chicago is also feeling the effects of the teamsters' strike to a greater extent than was expected, due to the duration of industrial strikes. Extraordinary efforts are being made by some of the dealers to secure business. The market is on an irregular basis. Long time credits are being given by dealers to induce consumers to take in coal, and in some instances prices are below those which the retailer should have obtained for his product in April. These irregularities will further complicate the situation unless the strike is ended shortly and consumers begin to take an interest in their future requirements.

KRUG PARK DRAWING CROWDS

Popular Resort Is More Than Ever Attractive and Is Very Well Patronized.

The opening of Krug park last Sunday was attended by thousands of people, breaking all the big records of last year, which was a record year. The crowd continued during the week, and today promises to be another record breaker. It was especially noticeable during the week that unusual interest was shown in the animated pictures imported by the management and were shown for the first time in this country at Krug park. The "Parafall" set has drawn the largest crowds. A most interesting lecture is delivered by Prof. Ritchie, to the great pleasure of the audience. Thirty pictures are first presented, showing the natural scenery that surrounded the production at Reyreuth, and these are followed by the pictures of the play in life. The "Parafall" exhibition occupies one hour and seventeen minutes and is given at 9 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday evenings. The "Life of Christ" motion pictures, also specially imported and new in this country, are shown on Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

The band concert by the Royal Canadian band, J. M. Finn, bandmaster, at 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., are a great attraction. The band consists of thirty pieces with ten soloists. The programs rendered during the week past have been most enthusiastically received.

The floral beauties of the park are rapidly unfolding, and over 200,000 of the rarest plants and flowers, valued at thousands of dollars, delight the eye.

The cafe is receiving good patronage. It is quite the fad to have select dinner parties at the park, orders for which are given in advance. Everything in season can be had, the service is all that could be desired and the prices are very moderate.

"Wonderland" will be ready to open in a few days. The unexpected delay has been caused by delay in the receipt of important mechanism from the east. It will be a great revelation when it is opened for public view.

Four Prisoners Escape.

Four prisoners made their getaway from the rock pile gang Saturday. As the rock pile gang arrived the city prison below the city, the prisoners broke through the paved streets in the business portion of the city. Work does not agree with some of these vagrants and they have boasted that just as soon as the opportunity offered they would make a break for it. While Chief Briggs was aware of this state of affairs he merely smiled and said nothing. An escaped prisoner is liable to keep away from South Omaha, for a time, anyway, and that is just what the police want.

Will Pay Board's Salaries.

At a recent meeting of the city council it was arranged that the fire and police commissioners were to be paid on Monday night, the money to come out of the salary fund. The members of the board have two months' salary coming under the old law and two months' under the new law. This new law went into force on April 1 and increases the salary of each member from $100 a year to $200 per annum. In addition to paying each member $200 a year an additional sum of $15 a month is allowed the secretary of the board. As Mr. Bergquist is secretary he will draw $45 a month while the other four members get but $25 a month. No provision was made for additional pay for the secretary under the old law. This matter of salaries for the commissioners was being held back by the council in order to see how the funds would come out at the end of the fiscal year.

Will Not Accept Place.

Rev. Dr. Wheeler stated to a Bee reporter Saturday that under no circumstances would he accept a place on the Board of Education at this time. "It is true that I have been asked by all four of the present members of the board to accept a place on the board to fill the vacancy. I have declined and I wish that you would make this statement to the people. Perhaps next spring when an election is to be held to fill the vacancy, if the voters want me on the board I may become a candidate, but I will not take a place now to fill the unexpired term of J. C. Knight."

Baccalaureate Sermon.

At the First Methodist Episcopal church this evening Rev. Dr. D. K. Tindall will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the South Omaha High school. Every member of the class is expected to attend and, with the usual congregation, the church will be most likely crowded. Dr. Tindall has prepared a sermon appropriate to the graduating class, and this well known preacher will doubtless leave some of the deepest impressions on the minds of the young people just completing their labors in the high school.

Death of Mrs. J. J. Ryan.

Mrs. John J. Ryan died at her home, Thirty-ninth and 8 streets, shortly after 8 a. m. Saturday. The deceased was very well known in South Omaha, having resided here for years. She was the daughter of Patrick Corrigan and left a husband and six children. The eldest child is 13 years of age, while the youngest was born on Monday last week. Peritonitis was the cause of death. No arrangements for the funeral have been made as yet on account of the absence of a sister in California. It is thought that possibly the funeral will be held at St. Mary's church on Wednesday morning of this week. Mrs. Ryan was 38 years of age. She was a devoted wife and mother and was receiving the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Woodmen Memorial Services.

On Sunday, June 4, at 2:30 p. m. the Modern Woodmen of America lodge in South Omaha will hold memorial services at the First Presbyterian church. Rev. Leyda of Benson will deliver the address. This service is to be held in memory of the members of the lodge who have died during the last year. During the twelve months closing June 1 six members of the lodge have departed this life. The list follows: George A. Burrows, Joseph C. Knight, James McMaister, Dr. James A. Kelly, E. S. Harrell, John Owens. Members of the lodge will meet at the hall and proceed to the church in a body.

Veterans' Memorial Services.

This forenoon the members of Paul Kearney post No. 2 Grand Army of the Republic, and the Woman's Relief Corps will attend services at the First Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. Dr. D. K. Tindall will deliver the annual memorial sermon, "The Battle of Life" is the subject of Dr. Tindall's sermon. Every member of the Grand Army and the Woman's Relief Corps are invited to attend this service. The veterans will meet at Masonic hall at 10:30 o'clock and march to the church.

On Decoration day, May 30, memorial services will be held at Laurel Hill cemetery at 10 a. m. Rev. R. L. Wheeler will deliver the memorial address at the cemetery, if his health will permit. A quartet will render appropriate songs and the graves of soldiers and sailors will be decorated with flags and flowers. Owing to the thinning of the ranks of the veterans the services this year will not be as elaborate as in the past.

OMAHA MEN TO CALL ON MILLER

Special Party Will Make a Visit to the Executive Head of the Burlington.

Representative business men of Omaha will leave this evening for a consultation with Darius Miller, executive head of the Burlington lines, in reference to the proposed new line between Omaha and Chicago.

There has been considerable written correspondence between the managers of the Hill-Burlington lines and the managers of the Chicago and North Western lines as to whether the proposed line was to be a cut-off from Sioux City to Ashland and to leave Omaha in the middle of the line.

The first intimation that the line was to run through Omaha came Friday from L. W. Hill, son of J. J. Hill and second vice president of the Great Northern, who gave out in an interview in Sioux City, and afterwards confirmed the same at Lincoln Saturday.

It had been the intention of the Chicago and North Western to build a line of the road to build into Omaha from the east.

The delegation which leaves for Chicago tonight includes these representative men: Commissioner McVane of the Commercial Union, and the following: H. C. Bruce, Euclid Martin, J. E. Baum, Nels Updike, A. B. Jacoby, J. B. Blanchard and J. G. Haight of South Omaha. The party goes in a special car over the Burlington.

CERTAIN RESULTS.

Many an Omaha Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Omaha. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical doubter. Read the following statement:

Mr. Fred E. Hall, 508 North 32nd street, employed at the railroad bridge, two miles from the city, says: "I had a bad cold for about a year and in the winter of 1898 it became very severe. When lying down it was very difficult to get up, and on stooping sharp pains caught me in the small of the back and my kidneys were weak. It was for this that I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Kuhn & Co's drug store. Since using them I have had no occasion to complain of my back or kidneys and I have told friends my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills, and will personally corroborate the above at any time. Sold for 50c per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other."

COUNTY SOLONS ARE PUZZLED

Commissioners Want to Modernize or Rebuild the Court House.

MANY DIFFERENT PLANS ARE PROPOSED

Chairman Kennard Has a Proposition Incubating Which is Expected to Result in the Formulating of a Definite Plan.

Recent allusions in The Bee news and editorial columns to the need for more room and modern improvements in the county court house have started anew the talk along that line. Since the Real Estate exchange has tentatively taken up consideration of the matter the commissioners, taking heart of grace, have renewed their discussions of what can be done.

Commissioner Bruning, as noted in The Bee some time ago, has been devoting considerable study to the question of installing an elevator in the present structure and rebuilding the heating plant. Chairman Kennard and Commissioner McDonald and Trainor have been rather inclined to a new wing proposition or a rearrangement of the whole building on the present site. Kennard has indicated that within a few weeks he will have a suggestion put into concrete form which he hopes will solve the problem. Commissioner Hefelitz, the veteran of the board, has been giving his thought mainly to the bonding proposition in his varying aspects.

It is matter of common knowledge that, owing to the peculiar situation and construction of the present heating plant of the county court house and jail, it costs several thousand dollars a year to pay the fuel bill. Instead of using cheap steam coal, as business houses do, the county is compelled to purchase hard coal for its heating plant. Mr. Bruning and other commissioners have therefore been giving some attention to a plan for removing the present heating plant to a place under the sidewalk west of the county jail, with a smokestack running up near the west wall of the jail building. In the rebuilding, which would not be very expensive, compared to the difference in yearly saving on coal, it is proposed to make the present boiler and heating rooms into a county store. They are admirably situated for this purpose and the store would have a street entrance on Eighteenth. The location would be much more accessible and satisfactory in every way to the county officers than the present quarters on St. Mary's avenue, where the county is paying rent for private property.

New Scheme for Elevator.

On the elevator proposition, if one shall be put in before the building is reconstructed or a new wing built, several of the commissioners have suggested that the elevator need not be placed in the center of the building, where its installation would necessarily cost a good deal, because of the solid foundation under the tower. They propose that the elevator be placed in one corner of the county treasurer or register of deeds office. In that event the tunneling of an entrance from Farnam street and then to the right to the left of the center would be a very simple matter and would not cost any great amount of money.

In connection with the elevator proposition is another suggestion, that of using the dormer story of the court house for jury rooms and extra vaults for the storage of records not in use. A story of twenty feet in the clear could thus be secured at small cost, which, it is asserted, would be very useful. The present jury rooms in the basement are decidedly unsatisfactory from every point of view, and the vaults of the county treasurer and register of deeds are cluttered with tons of records that are seldom or never used. With a large skylight let into the roof there might also be made a fine room for the juvenile court, which at present is being held in Judge Day's private office, not at all suited to its needs.

The construction of a wing on the Seventeenth street side of the building, beginning at the street level and having an elevator near the entrance, has probably met with more favor than any single proposition yet brought forward. A good deal of curiosity is evinced to learn the nature of the plan Chairman Kennard has under consideration.

Sinking Fund Law Needed.

Commissioner Hefelitz has expressed himself as in favor of a legislative amendment which will permit the county to create a sinking fund sufficient to meet and redeem the bond issues as they fall due. "As it is now," said Mr. Hefelitz, "we can levy for a sinking fund which just about meets the interest on the bonds outstanding. At the time it was provided it was sufficient for the purpose intended, but since then many more thousands of bonds have been voted and we never secured the authority to establish a sinking fund sufficient to meet them when they fall due."

Of the propositions to issue a new series of bonds for the reconstruction of the court house Mr. Hefelitz said: "This county is simply able to make such an issue and sell it at a premium. Our credit is good, but the difficulty will be to get the farmers to vote the bonds. It would be the economical course, however, beyond any question."

Would Sell County Hospital.

Without in any way committing himself to the proposal, Commissioner Trainor, chairman of the committees on county hospital and charity, is giving some attention to a plan to sell the present county hospital and grounds to the city. In that event he thinks the county could save a great deal of money and still provide a suitable haven for the delinquent and unfortunate the county is compelled to care for.

"The city has no hospital," says Mr. Trainor, "and every city of the size of Omaha certainly needs a hospital. The county hospital costs a great deal of money every year, and the outside charity added to it makes the figure somewhat astounding. A similar use of land near Waterloo or Valley would, in my judgment, serve the purpose equally well. What we would realize from the present farm would more than pay for the new location and buildings and leave considerable to the good."

There seems at present every likelihood that when Chairman Kennard presents his plan the other commissioners will be ready to discuss it and perhaps offer suggestions on which a compromise can be reached. It is understood that Commissioner McDonald, the second oldest member of the board in point of service, has some ideas of his own which he will put in shape for presentation at an early day. The county board is in the humor to act if they can be assured of the support of the community in any feasible plan they may agree on.

MRS. BRANDEIS LEFT NO WILL

Verbal Requests She Made Touching Certain Projects Will Be Respected by the Family.

The late Mrs. Jonas L. Brandeis left no will. It is understood, however, that she made several verbal requests which will be taken by her family as so many commands they are very willing to comply with. These requests are understood to contemplate substantial aid for projects in which Mrs. Brandeis had an abiding interest. When Jonas L. Brandeis died the bulk of his estate was left to his wife, and her wishes have always been supreme with her children.

Within a few days letters of administration will be asked by Hon. John L. Kennedy for the estate of Mrs. Brandeis, who Arthur D. Brandeis as administrator. When this formality has been completed with the heirs will proceed to carry out their mother's wishes.
